

Two dispersive fits and one microscopic potential, all at the physical kick energy. They disagree on where the absorption sits, not only on its depth, and the deeply bound orbital reaches further into the interior.